Brooks
Multi-use stacking chair

Its flexible choice of plastic, wood, and upholstered seats as well as plastic or cast aluminum arms, on a broad range of models, makes Brooks our most versatile multi-use product. Frames are a combination of 7/8" square tube legs with cast aluminum back supports. All fasteners are concealed to complete the line's clean, modern appeal.

Designer: Paul Brooks
Paul Brooks is an Englishman living in France with a studio in Germany. Over the years, he has developed a reputation as an office furniture specialist with a flexible vision. His European approach, successfully incorporating influences from several cultures, reflects his personal synthesis of today's global market.
