Robus Swivel Chair

Robus communicates the appropriate strength and graceful elegance expected of a product designed specifically for the executive user. From its sculpted arms to its faceted upholstery, this is a leader's chair that confidently fulfills its primary functions related to either executive desking or conference room applications.

Designer: Aodh O'Donnell
Born in Ireland, Aodh O'Donnell graduated from Philadelphia University and joined Stylex in 2011 where he serves as Director of Design. "Every Stylex project I work on is my favorite project in that moment. I am very passionate about the design process, caring deeply for a chair's development from the emotion its form evokes to the fit and finish of the upholstery."
